CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS

The many challenges that today's college student-athletes face, on and off the playing field, are unmatched in the history of higher education. Unfortunately, many students are not well prepared to face these challenges or encounter life issues that undermine health and success in college. To prepare student-athletes for the demands of college life and beyond, the NCAA developed the CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success)/Life Skills program.

In the spring of 1995, West Virginia University Intercollegiate Athletics initiated its own CHAMPS/Life Skills program. WVU was one of only 170 schools selected by the NCAA to participate in their national pilot program.

Five programming "commitment" areas viewed as critical to personal growth are part of WVU's model. They are: 1) academic excellence, 2) personal development, 3) career development, 4) athletic excellence, and 5) community service.

For more information, see WVU intercollegiate athletics psychologist Dr. Ed Etzel in Room 275a in the Coliseum at 304-293-7062 or online at http://www.wvusports.com/page.cfm?section=12102

Junior linebacker Wes Tonkery was the inaugural recipient of the Curtis Jones, Jr. Achievement Award. The award is presented annually to the Mountaineer football player who demonstrates excellence in all facets of his collegiate career, including academics, athletics and community service.

when you play Mountaineer football, you're a player in college football. That edge comes from playing some of the best competition in America. The BIG EAST is the only league where all of its members have been to a bowl in the last two years, and BIG EAST schools represent 25% of the nation's television teams have made 23 appearances in New Year's bowls in the past dozen years. We face the best teams and the best players. During the last five NFL drafts, 112 BIG EAST players were selected, 29 of them first-rounders. When you play Mountaineer football, you're a player in college football.

[AUGUST 31, 2013 – MORGANTOWN, W.VA.]

WEST VIRGINIA	24
WILLIAM & MARY	17

New faces made their mark on West Virginia football for the first time as the Mountaineers won their season and home opener by a 24-17 count over William & Mary.

Charles Sims, Dreamius Smith, Wendell Smallwood, Daikiel Shorts, Ronald Carswell, Devonte Mathis and Nick O'Toole were just some of the new names to make their debut in a Mountaineer uniform, and all had a role in the season's first victory.

Sims led all rushers with 120 yards on 23 carries, including an 11-yard touchdown rush for the season's first score. Smith added 40 yards rushing, while Smallwood scored the go-ahead touchdown on a two-yard rush in the fourth quarter.

Carswell showed his explosiveness with a 69-yard third quarter touchdown reception, and Shorts and Mathis combined for 11 catches for 107 yards.

Another pleasant surprise was the punting of O'Toole, a redhsirt sophomore, who flipped the field in WVU's favor on four of his five punts. He averaged 50.6 yards per punt with a long of 60 yards.

The weather was hot and steamy at Milan Puskar Stadium, and the Mountaineers started with a hot hand by taking their opening drive 67 yards on eight plays for a 7-0 lead behind Sims' 11-yard touchdown rush.

However, the rest of the first half belonged to William & Mary, as the Tribe tied the game at the 3:28 mark of the first quarter on a Darnell Laws one-yard touchdown reception.

William & Mary took the lead at the 8:56 mark of the second quarter, when quarterback Michael Graham rushed in from five-yards out for a 14-7 Tribe advantage.

W&M upped its advantage to 17-7 at the half, when kicker John Carpenter added a 29-yard field goal with just 0:23 left.

The Mountaineers came up with two key scores in the third quarter to tie the game, before heading into the fourth.

At the 8:44 mark, kicker Josh Lambert connected on a 22-yard field goal to end a 70-yard drive and pull the Mountaineers closer at 17-10.

On West Virginia's next possession, quarterback Paul Millard hit a streaking Carswell for a 69-yard touchdown pass, which tied the game at 17-17 and put the momentum back on the West Virginia sideline.

While the WVU offense fought back to erase a 10-point deficit, the Mountaineer defense came up big in the second half by blanking the Tribe on the scoreboard and holding them to just 108 total yards in the final two quarters of action.

Both teams traded possessions in the final quarter, until West Virginia broke through for the game-winning touchdown with just 3:22 left. Smallwood capped off an eight-play, 50-yard drive with his first career WVU touchdown, which came on a two-yard run.

Leading 24-17, the WVU defense wrote the final chapter in the game, as Darwin Cook intercepted a Graham pass on the ensuing drive to seal the game and allow the offense to run out the clock.

West Virginia's defensive effort was led by Nick Kwiatkoski, Cook and Rowell, who combined for 19 tackles.

Daikiel SHORTS

William & Mary got 108 yards receiving from Tre McBride, while Graham passed for 207 yards and one score. The Tribe defense was led by Jerome Couplin with 14 tackles.

West Virginia finished with a balanced 172 yards rushing and 237 passing for a total of 409 yards of offense. The Tribe totaled 102 yards on the game and 207 through the air for 309 total yards.

The win upped West Virginia's record all-time against schools from the FCS to 13-0.

[SEPTEMBER 7, 2013 – NORMAN, OKLA.]

NO. 16/16 OKLAHOMA	16
WEST VIRGINIA	7

Dreamius SMITH

A combined eight turnovers by both teams on a hot, steamy night in Norman, Okla., hindered the offenses and pumped up the defenses as No. 16 Oklahoma downed West Virginia, 16-7, in front of 84,692 at Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium.

Turnover totals in the Big 12 opener for both schools saw West Virginia with three fumbles and one interception, while the Sooners fared no better with two fumbles and two interceptions.

The leg of Oklahoma kicker Mike Hunnicut proved to be the big difference in the game. The All-America candidate converted on field goals of 44, 21 and 32 yards to keep the Sooners in front for most of the night.

Despite the turnovers, the Sooners did get a running game going and finished with 316 yards. Leading the effort was Brennan Clay with 170 yards on 22 carries. Clay was followed by Damien Williams with 96 yards to form a strong one-two ground game for OU.

The Oklahoma rushing success eventually wore down the West Virginia defense, which played well for most of the night. By churning out yards on the ground, the Sooners held almost a 9:00 advantage in time of possession and ran 13 more plays than the Mountaineers.

While running plays stood out for Oklahoma, it was the West Virginia ground game that struck first.

On West Virginia's second possession, junior Dreamius Smith broke loose for a 75-yard touchdown run to put the Mountaineers on the board first. Not only was it West Virginia's longest play from scrimmage thus far in 2013, but it was Smith's first career touchdown as a Mountaineer. The run gave WVU the lead, 7-0, at the 8:54 mark of the first quarter.

However, the Sooners would start chipping away at the deficit and went on to score the next 16 unanswered points, mainly behind the kicking of Hunnicutt.

The junior hit his first field goal with 4:22 left in the first by connecting from 44-yards out to put the score at 7-3.

The Sooners took the lead for good at the 13:35 mark of the second quarter, when quarterback Trevor Knight hit Trey Millard for a one-yard scoring pass, which was set up after a WVU muffed punt.

Oklahoma took a 13-7 lead into the locker room, when Hunnicut hit from 21-yards away to end a 13-play, 83-yard drive. The long, time-consuming drive before the half was indicative of the game for the Mountaineers. The drive put OU's halftime advantage at 19 more plays and just over 5:00 more possession time.

Despite a scoreless third quarter, the Mountaineer offense showed signs of life in the second half of play, but turnovers and execution problems continued to stall drives.

Oklahoma scored the final points in the game with a little more than 10 minutes remaining, when Hunnicutt hit for a 32-yard field goal.

Leading the defensive effort in holding the Sooners to just 16 points on their home field was safety Darwin Cook with 11 tackles, one fumble recovery and one interception. Linebacker Nick Kwiatkoski added 11 tackles. Lineman Will Clarke came through with a fumble recovery, and safety Karl Joseph grabbed his first interception of the season. Both interceptions and fumble recoveries were key to stopping Sooner drives and keeping the Mountaineers in the game.

Final totals showed West Virginia with 169 yards rushing and 218 passing to total 387 yards of offense. Oklahoma's final totals came in at 316 yards on the ground and 119 through the air for 435 total yards.

The seven points scored by the Mountaineers were the lowest in the Dana Holgorsen era at West Virginia.

[SEPTEMBER 14, 2013 – MORGANTOWN, W.VA.]

WEST VIRGINIA	41
GEORGIA STATE	7

Nick KWIATKOSKI

West Virginia grabbed its second win of the 2013 season with a 41-7 victory over Georgia State in front of 57,440 at Milan Puskar Stadium.

Powering the Mountaineers was an offense that got on track behind the first career start of redshirt-freshman quarterback Ford Childress. The Houston native passed for 359 yards and three touchdowns to jump start the offense. His passing numbers were a WVU record for freshmen quarterbacks, passing the old mark of 257 yards set by Scott McBrien in 2000.

The running game was powered by Charles Sims with 116 yards rushing and one score, while Wendell Smallwood and Dreamius Smith added 62 and 60 yards on the ground in the victory.

Not to be outdone, the Mountaineer defense was solid by holding the Panthers to just 84 yards passing, while allowing just one score.

West Virginia's opening drive resulted in a Josh Lambert 42-yard field goal. WVU would score its first touchdown at the 4:11 mark of the first quarter, when Childress connected on a 21-yard pass to Daikiel Shorts. The play ended an impressive 93-yard drive in 11 plays and gave the Mountaineers a 10-0 advantage.

Childress hit for his next touchdown pass at the 2:50 mark of the second quarter, as he connected with senior receiver Ivan McCartney for a 45-yard scoring toss. WVU's scoring drive covered 60 yards in just two plays and gave the Mountaineers a 17-0 lead at the intermission.

Georgia State turned in its best offensive play of the game at the 11:37 mark of the third quarter, when running back Travis Evans outrushed the Mountaineer secondary for a 65-yard scoring jaunt. The play pulled the Panthers to within 10 at 17-7, but it was all Gold and Blue the rest of the way.

The Mountaineers would go on to light up the scoreboard four more times en route to the victory. Lambert added his second field goal in the contest, this time from 23-yards out, with 4:36 remaining in the third.

Fourth quarter action saw three touchdowns from the Mountaineer offense. First, Sims broke loose for a 32-yard run to cap off a 62-yard drive at the 14:50 mark.

With 11:42 left, Childress struck for touchdown pass number three and the second of the day to Shorts. The two connected for a 23-yard pass play to end a 33-yard drive.

And finally, Smith ended the scoring with a powerful 10-yard rush on fourth down, breaking several tackles along the way, as WVU was trying to run out the clock. The run ended up closing out an eight-play, 68-yard drive.

Aside from Childress and the running backs, the Mountaineer receivers had a good day with nine players having at least one catch. While Shorts and McCartney had the touchdown receptions, KJ Myers, Mario Alford and Ronald Carswell also figured heavily into the passing attack. Carswell finished with 167 all-purpose yards, as his 67 yards receiving went along with 46 yards on punt returns and 54 on kickoff returns.

The WVU defensive effort was led by Nick Kwiatkoski with nine tackles, a sack and a forced fumble.

Georgia State got a solid 118 yards rushing from Evans, as he averaged 9.8 yards per carry. The Panther defense was led by Rashad Stewart and Robert Ferguson with 11 tackles each, and the two combined for three TFL and one sack.

Final numbers showed the Mountaineers with 245 yards on the ground and 359 passing for 604 total yards. The Panthers added 136 yards on the ground to go along with their 84 yards passing and totaled 220 yards on the afternoon.

The game produced the 10th 40-point or more outburst in the Holgorsen era, and improved the Mountaineers to 83-6 when scoring 30 or more points since the 2000 season.

MARYLAND	37

Nick O'TOOLE

Six turnovers spelled doom for West Virginia as Maryland scored its first victory over the Mountaineers in seven tries with a 37-0 victory at M&T Bank Stadium.

The four fumbles and two interceptions hindered the Mountaineers and ignited the Terrapins, as they handed West Virginia its first shutout since 2001.

West Virginia's offense could not gain any momentum on the rainy Saturday afternoon, which resulted in a 17-minute advantage in time of possession for Maryland.

Maryland's first score was set up after a muffed punt by the Mountaineers. Three plays later, Dave Stinebaugh hauled in a six-yard pass from C.J. Brown for a 7-0 Terp lead.

Just under a minute later, cornerback A.J. Hendy picked off a Ford Childress pass and returned it 28 yards for the game's second score.

With a 14-0 lead heading into the second quarter, Maryland added five more scores to take a commanding 30-0 lead at the half.

Kicker Brad Craddock added a 50-yard field goal at the 11:06 mark and would go on to convert two more tries to give him three field goals in the quarter.

Aside from his 50-yarder, Craddock added a 36-yard try at the 7:08 mark and a 30-yard field goal with just 1:35 left in the half.

The Terrapins were not done with just three field goals in the quarter, picking off Childress for the second time with 1:21 left. It took just three plays before Brown rushed in from one-yard out to stun the Mountaineers.

As the rain continued to pour, second-half action saw Maryland run a base offense with the objective to run out the clock. With no scoring in the third quarter, the Terrapins used a 12-play, 89-yard drive that consumed a lengthy 8:16 to close out the scoring.

Running back Brandon Ross put the exclamation point on the Terps first victory over WVU since 2004 with a three-yard touchdown run.

West Virginia running back Dreamius Smith had a 51-yard run late in the game to propel him to a team-high 74 yards rushing. Fellow running back Charles Sims hauled in eight catches for 33 yards, while Childress finished the second start of his young career with 11 completions on 22 attempts for 62 yards passing.

Safety Karl Joseph had a strong day in the Mountaineer secondary with seven solo tackles and a total of eight to lead a weary Mountaineer defense.

One bright spot for West Virginia was the continued strong punting of redshirt sophomore Nick O'Toole. The Corona, Calif., native averaged 46.1 yards per punt with a long of 54 yards. Of his eight punts, three were for 50 yards or more and another two traveled 49 yards.

Ross led the Terp rushing attack with 67 yards and one score. Brown quarterbacked a solid game and was mistake free, finishing with 217 yards and one touchdown passing and another rushing.

Deon Long led the Terrapin receivers with six catches for 98 yards, while the Terp defense received seven tackles, one TFL and one forced fumble from L.A. Goree.

Final totals showed West Virginia with 113 yards rushing and 62 passing for 175 total yards, which was the lowest total in the Dana Holgorsen era at West Virginia. Maryland totaled 113 yards on the ground and 217 through the air for 330 yards of total offense.

West Virginia fell to 2-2 and finished non-conference play for 2013 with a 2-1 mark. Maryland improved to 4-0, and by breaking the seven-game losing streak to the Mountaineers, closed the series record to 26-22-2 in favor of West Virginia.

WEST VIRGINIA	30
NO. 11/11 OKLAHOMA STATE	21

Clint TRICKETT

West Virginia capitalized on three Oklahoma State turnovers and defeated the 11th-ranked Cowboys, 30-21, at Milan Puskar Stadium.

A struggling Mountaineer offense, which had been shut out the week before, fed off the energy created by a fired-up West Virginia defense which came up with several big plays against the nation's No. 11-ranked team. In turn, the Mountaineer offense responded under first-time starting quarterback Clint Trickett.

The Florida State transfer patiently waited his turn and became the third starting quarterback for the Mountaineers in 2013. When his time came, Trickett made of the most of it with a gutsy performance that carried the Mountaineers to their first Big 12 victory of the season.

Oklahoma State scored first with 8:32 left on the first-quarter clock. Quarterback J.W. Walsh hit Josh Stewart for a 73-yard touchdown pass, and the Cowboys looked to be off and running.

A Cowboy interception on WVU's next possession, paved the way for the OSU offense to take control of the game. However, West Virginia's Ishmael Banks picked off a Walsh pass and returned the interception 58 yards for a game-changing interception return.

Instead of Oklahoma State driving for a two touchdown lead, Banks' interception sparked the Mountaineer football team, tied the game and ignited the 57,280 at Milan Puskar Stadium.

Feeding off the confidence gained by Banks' interception, Trickett drove the West Virginia offense 70 yards in eight plays, and threw his first touchdown pass as a Mountaineer, hitting Kevin White for a 17-yard scoring toss. After the quarter started out like OSU was going to dominate, it was the Mountaineers who led 14-7.

A Cowboy fumble early in the second was recovered by WVU linebacker Isaiah Bruce to set up the game's next score. Freshman kicker Josh Lambert connected on a 45-yard field goal at the 10:43 mark to up the West Virginia lead to 17-7.

Oklahoma State countered with a 76-yard scoring drive that saw Walsh hit Tracy Moore for a 27-yard touchdown reception to pull the Cowboys to within three at 17-14.

A Trickett 40-yard pass play to junior Mario Alford set up Charles Sims' touchdown run for a 24-14 Mountaineer advantage, which held up at the half after an OSU missed field goal.

Oklahoma State scored at the 11:35 mark of the third quarter, when Walsh hit for his third touchdown pass in the game, this time to Jeremy Seaton, cutting the Mountaineer lead to 24-21.

But that touchdown would be the final points of the game for the high-powered Cowboy offense, as an inspired West Virginia defense took control and held OSU scoreless on its final eight possessions.

One Cowboy drive ended with a missed field goal early in the fourth, and the final stanza saw WVU convert on two more field goals by Lambert to put the game out of reach and seal the upset victory.

Trickett finished his first game with 309 yards passing, while Sims totaled 157 all-purpose yards. Safety Darwin Cook's interception late in the fourth set up the game clinching field goal, and Cook also added eight tackles to lead the defense.

Walsh finished with 322 yards passing and three touchdowns, while Stewart led all receivers with 127 yards. Caleb Lavey led the Cowboy defense with 12 tackles.

West Virginia's final numbers stood at 68 yards rushing and 320 passing for 388 yards of offense. Oklahoma State rushed for 111 and passed for 322 to total 433 yards.

The West Virginia win evened the two teams at 1-1 in all-time Big 12 play, and gave the Mountaineers a slim 3-2 advantage in the all-time series with Oklahoma State.

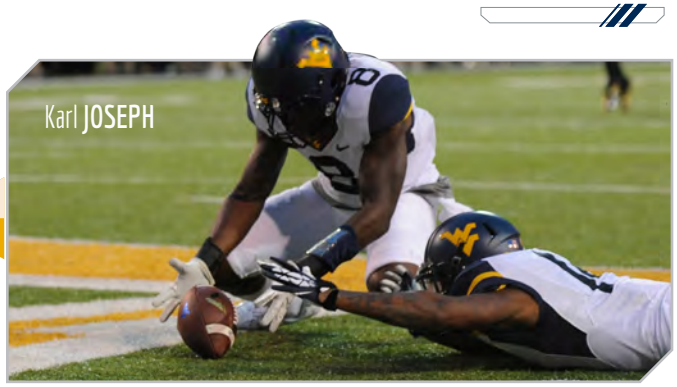
NO. 16/17 BAYLOR	73
WEST VIRGINIA	42



No. 16/17 Baylor scored a touchdown on nine of its first 10 possessions and never looked back in defeating West Virginia, 73-42, at Floyd Casey Stadium.

West Virginia didn't have a bad offensive day in terms of numbers, but the Mountaineers just couldn't keep pace with the speedy Bears.

A rolling Baylor offense scored 28 points in the first quarter and 28 more in the second on its way to 56 first-half points and 617 total yards.

The Bears finished with two 100-yard rushers and one 100-yard receiver, while accumulating 38 first downs.

Antwan Goodley hauled in a 61-yard touchdown pass from Bryce Petty on the game's third play from scrimmage for a quick 7-0 Baylor lead.

West Virginia answered back, when Karl Joseph recovered a muffed punt in the end zone to tie the game at the 12:32 mark of the first quarter.

However, the anticipated track meet never ensued, as Baylor added a two-yard touchdown run by Petty, a 47-yard scoring strike from Petty to Tevin Reese and an 80-yard rush from Lache Seastrunk for a 28-7 first-quarter advantage.

Glasco Martin added two touchdown runs of two yards in the second quarter to extend Baylor's lead to 42-7 and give the Bears a string of 35 unanswered points.

West Virginia finally answered at the 5:49 mark, when Clint Trickett hit Kevin White for a 39-yard scoring toss to culminate a drive that covered 75 yards in four plays.

However, Baylor finished out the quarter with touchdown runs from Seastrunk (19 yards) and Shock Linwood (13 yards) to give the Bears a commanding 56-14 lead at the half.

Second-half action saw the Mountaineers outscore Baylor, 28-17, but it was too little, too late.

The Mountaineers took the second-half kickoff and marched 75 yards in four plays, ending with a 39-yard Charles Sims touchdown run.

Leading 56-21, Baylor added the next two scores in the third to take a 66-21 advantage into the final quarter. Devin Chafin's one-yard scoring run came before a 36-yard field goal from Aaron Jones at the 5:20 mark to close out the scoring in the quarter.

West Virginia scored three times in the fourth quarter, the first coming with 10:48 remaining in the game, when Ronald Carswell caught a 43-yard pass from Paul Millard. White came back on WVU's next possession and notched his second touchdown in the game, by hauling in a one-yard pass from Millard.

Baylor ended its scoring for the night with 5:41 left, as backup quarterback Seth Russell rushed in from seven-yards out. West Virginia added a score late, when cornerback Travis Bell intercepted Russell and lateraled the ball to Cook, who returned it 32 yards for a touchdown to put the final total at 73-42.

Sims led the WVU rushing effort with 92 yards and a score. White had his best day as a Mountaineer with 130 yards on seven catches and two touchdowns. Cook led the defense with nine tackles, one sack, one interception and a touchdown. Jared Barber and Doug Rigg combined for 20 tackles.

Petty finished with 347 yards passing for Baylor, and Goodley was his favorite target with seven catches for 170 yards. Seastrunk finished with 172 yards on the ground and was joined in a strong rushing effort by Linwood with 126 yards. The Bear defense was led by linebacker Bryce Hager with eight stops.

Final numbers showed West Virginia with 118 yards on the ground and 276 passing for 394 yards. Baylor finished with 468 yards rushing and 396 passing for an impressive 864 yards of total offense.

The game marked the first trip for Mountaineer football to Waco, and the Baylor win evened the all-time series between the two schools at 1-1.

NO. 15/16 TEXAS TECH	37
WEST VIRGINIA	27

No. 15/16 Texas Tech jumped out to an early lead, and then rallied from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat West Virginia, 37-27, in front of 54,084 fans on Homecoming.

The Red Raiders asserted themselves early, as they took a 13-0 lead at the 12:30 mark of the second quarter.

A first-quarter touchdown reception by Jace Amaro came before two Ryan Bustin field goals to get the game started for Texas Tech.

However, West Virginia came alive in the second quarter and scored 20 unanswered points to not only erase the deficit, but take the lead in the third quarter.

Fueled by two fumble recoveries, West Virginia got the string of 20 straight points started with a Josh Lambert 33-yard field goal, followed by a 38-yard touchdown run from running back Dreamius Smith. The touchdown run ended an impressive 99-yard scoring drive for the Mountaineers in nine plays.

Trailing 13-10, Lambert added a 30-yard field goal with just 23 seconds left to knot the score at 13-13 at the half.

The Mountaineers took their first lead of the game, 20-13, at the 9:27 mark of the third quarter, when they took the second-half kickoff 74 yards and used a four-yard pass from quarterback Clint Trickett to tailback Charles Sims to complete the comeback.

Remaining second-half action saw the back-and-forth battle that most expected, with the Red Raiders coming out on top in the old-fashioned shootout.

A total of six scores occurred in the second half, with five coming after Trickett's pass to Sims. Texas Tech stopped the string of unanswered points with Bustin's 26-yard field goal with 7:24 left in the third.

Leading 20-16, West Virginia answered back with a 12-yard Smith run that ended a seven-play, 72-yard drive, giving the Mountaineers a 27-16 advantage with 4:36 left in the third quarter.

As well as the West Virginia offense was moving the ball in the second and third quarters, no one expected the Mountaineer offense to go cold and run out of gas, but seemingly that is what happened. The Red Raiders would rally from the 27-16 deficit to score the final 21 points to earn the Big 12 road victory.

A Kenny Williams one-yard run with 2:26 left in the third quarter ended an 80-yard drive, and closed the gap to 27-23 heading into the fourth.

The Red Raiders added two more touchdowns in the fourth to take command of the game.The first came with 9:30 left, as Williams again rushed in from one-yard away, which closed out an 84-yard drive. Then Amaro struck again in the final minute to put the game out of reach, as he hauled in a 10-yard pass from freshman Davis Webb for the 10-point victory.

The Mountaineers closed the game with five straight drives without a score, with three drives consisting of just three plays.

Trickett finished with 254 yards passing, while Smith (89) and Sims (77) led the WVU rushing attack. Daikiel Shorts had 78 yards receiving, and Kevin White caught five of Trickett's passes for 77 yards, with a long catch of 40 yards. Jared Barber led the WVU defense with nine tackles.

For Tech, Webb passed for 462 yards with 136 going to Amaro, who caught both Red Raider touchdown passes. Brad Marquez added 112 yards receiving, while Tanner Jacobson, Will Smith and Pete Robertson all finished with nine tackles and combined for two sacks, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery.

Final totals showed West Virginia with 183 yards rushing and 254 passing for 437 yards of total offense. Texas Tech finished with 111 yards on the ground and a strong 462 through the air for 573 yards of total offense.

KANSAS STATE	35
WEST VIRGINIA	12

Kansas State erased a five-point third quarter deficit to defeat West Virginia, 35-12, in front of 52,898 fans on Homecoming at Bill Snyder Family Stadium.

For the second straight Big 12 game, West Virginia had the lead in the third quarter but could not finish with a victory. Kansas State scored 28 unanswered points to win going away.

Using two quarterbacks, Jake Waters and Daniel Sams, the Wildcats threw just three incomplete passes in 21 attempts, while the KSU defense collected two sacks, six tackles for loss and one interception to slow the West Virginia offense.

Kansas State started the scoring with 3:57 left in the opening quarter, when Waters found Tyler Lockett for a 35-yard touchdown pass.

The Mountaineers were able to answer the score at the 10:05 mark of the second quarter, when quarterback Clint Trickett rushed in from six yards out to complete a 47-yard drive. KSU blocked the ensuing extra-point attempt to hold on to a 7-6 advantage.

West Virginia kicker Josh Lambert erased the deficit at the 5:25 mark of the second quarter, with a 21-yard field goal that ended a 79-yard scoring drive. Highlighting the drive was a 50-yard completion from Trickett to receiver Ronald Carswell.

Just before halftime, West Virginia faked a 26-yard field goal attempt, but holder Michael Molinari was tackled short of a first down on his rushing attempt and the score remained 9-7 in favor of WVU at the intermission.

The Mountaineers got on the board at the 10:40 mark of the third quarter, when Lambert connected on a career-long 50-yard field goal, giving WVU a 12-7 lead. The big play of the drive was a 43-yard completion from Trickett to receiver Kevin White.

With 2:16 left in the third, Kansas State regained the lead for good, when Sams found Lockett for a nine-yard scoring toss, giving the Wildcats a 14-12 advantage.

Kansas State would go on to score 21 more points in the fourth quarter to wrap the game up. The Mountaineer offense could not find its way to the end zone again, and the Wildcats wore down a tired WVU defense. KSU ended up possessing the ball for 11 minutes more than the Mountaineers, despite running seven less plays.

Fourth-quarter scoring by K-State saw Tramaine Thompson haul in a 30-yard touchdown pass to end a 78-yard drive with 11:11 left in the game. Then Lockett added his third touchdown reception in the contest with a 24-yard pass from Waters with 7:31 remaining.

And finally, running back John Hubert closed out the scoring with just 21 seconds left as he scampered in from four-yards out to give K-State its only rushing touchdown of the game.

For West Virginia, Trickett passed for 227 yards, while running back Charles Sims was the team's leading rusher with 43 yards, while also grabbing seven catches for 54 yards.

Karl Joseph was outstanding for the WVU defense with 12 solo tackles, two TFL, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. Teammate Nick Kwiatkoski added 11 stops, one sack and one forced fumble.

Josh LAMBERT

For Kansas State, Waters finished with 198 yards passing, and Sams added 93 yards. To go along with his three touchdowns, Lockett had 111 yards receiving, while teammate Curry Sexton hauled in 112 yards on six catches. The Wildcat defense was led by Ty Zimmerman with 12 tackles followed by Blake Slaughter with nine stops, two TFL and one fumble recovery.

Final numbers showed West Virginia with 103 yards rushing and 264 passing for 367 yards of total offense. Kansas State finished with 157 yards on the ground and 291 through the air for 448 yards of total offense.

TCU	27

OVERTIME

Josh Lambert's 34-yard field goal in overtime capped a West Virginia comeback that saw the Mountaineers erase a 14-point deficit and score a 30-27 Big 12 road victory at TCU.

The Mountaineers used a 17-point fourth quarter, and the services of Charles Sims, who accounted for 154 yards rushing and 189 all-purpose yards to spark the comeback and end a three-game losing streak. Sims' 154 yards rushing were the most ever on a Gary Patterson TCU defense.

TCU had four turnovers in the game, and the first one got West Virginia on the scoreboard early in the opening quarter. Off a Kyle Rose deflection, linebacker Nick Kwiatkoski intercepted TCU quarterback Casey Pachall to set up WVU at the TCU 23-yard line. Lambert converted the first of his three field goals, and his 24-yarder put the Mountaineers on top 3-0.

The Horned Frogs quickly tied the game on their next drive, as Jaden Oberkrom connected from 22-yards out to end a 12-play, 67-yard drive.

TCU took the lead on its next possession, as the Horned Frogs used an eight-play, 80-yard scoring drive to take a 10-3 advantage on Pachall's 10-yard pass to Josh Doctson.

Early in the second quarter, TCU was on the verge of blowing the game open as a Pachall 12-yard pass to David Porter put the Horned Frogs up 17-3 with 12:10 left in the half.

However, the Mountaineers survived the opening storm and were able to force the Horned Frogs to a three-and-out on their next possession to breath life back into the Mountaineer sideline.

After TCU was stopped on downs, West Virginia quarterback Clint Trickett connected on two straight passes of 29 and 27 yards to set up a 31-yard rushing touchdown by Sims to pull the Mountaineers closer at 17-10.

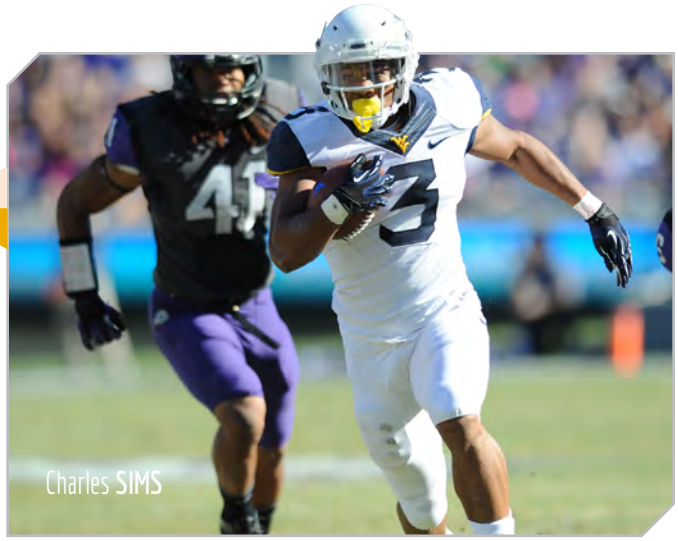
Both teams were held scoreless on the next five possessions, (three for TCU and two for WVU) and the Horned Frogs took the seven-point lead into the intermission.

Third quarter action was scoreless, but the two teams were about to erupt for a combined 27 points in the fourth quarter to provide a thrilling end to the Big 12 contest.

A key turning point came near the end of the third quarter, when Trickett was intercepted by Paul Dawson to set up the Horned Frogs at the WVU 12-yard line with 24 seconds left in the quarter. As TCU was attempting to put the game away with a score, linebacker Isaiah Bruce forced a Trevone Boykin fumble that teammate Jared Barber recovered, and the Horned Frog threat was over and new life entered the Mountaineers.

After the fumble recovery, Trickett led the offense on a 72-yard drive that resulted in a 42-yard field goal from Lambert. Trailing 17-13, WVU's Ishmael Banks intercepted Pachall on TCU's next play, which led to a Trickett 11-yard scoring pass to Cody Clay, giving WVU a 20-17 lead.

The turnover bug hit TCU again on its next drive, as a Pachall fumble was recovered by WVU's Darwin Cook, setting up a 13-yard pass from Trickett to Sims for a 27-17 WVU lead with 7:05 left in the game.



Charles SIMS

But the Horned Frogs were not done, and used their final two possessions to tie the game on a Pachall touchdown pass and a 45-yard field goal from Oberkrom to send the game into overtime for the second straight year between the two teams.

The WVU defense held TCU on its possession, forcing the Horned Frogs into a long field goal attempt. Oberkrom missed a 62-yard field goal try, giving the advantage to West Virginia. After running five plays, Lambert came on to hit the clutch field goal for the WVU victory.

West Virginia rushed for 148 and passed for 267 to finish with 415 total yards. TCU totaled 60 yards rushing and 394 passing for 454 yards of offense.

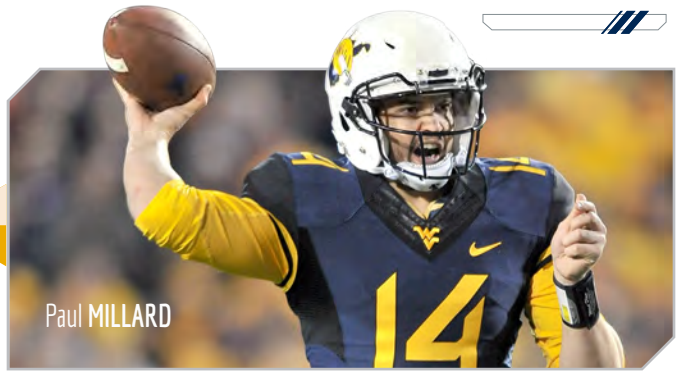
WEST VIRGINIA	47
TEXAS	40

OVERTIME



Texas overcame a late fourth-quarter deficit to force overtime and eventually defeat West Virginia, 47-40, in front of 58,570 fans at Milan Puskar Stadium.

In perhaps one of the best Big 12 football games of the 2013 season, both teams contributed big plays and saw their offenses and defenses take charge at certain points. However, the Longhorns made the last big play in overtime to secure the road victory.

The Mountaineers started fast and took a 9-0 lead behind a blocked punt for a safety by Jewone Snow, and a Charles Sims three-yard rush. The Longhorns added a 37-yard field goal by Anthony Fera with just over a minute to play in the opening quarter, cutting the deficit to 9-3.

Both teams traded punches in the second stanza and scored 10 points each. Texas got its first touchdown on a two-yard run by Malcolm Brown and added another field goal by Fera.

Second-quarter scoring for West Virginia saw Sims add his second touchdown in the game with a six-yard run, before kicker Josh Lambert closed out the scoring with a 30-yard field goal, giving the Mountaineers a 19-13 lead at the half. Lambert's field goal came after WVU controlled the ball for 4:51.

Texas controlled the third quarter and outscored the Mountaineers 17-7 to take a 30-26 advantage into the fourth. Fera's third field goal capitalized on a WVU turnover, before Longhorn quarterback Case McCoy hit receiver Mike Davis for a 49-yard touchdown strike. Running back Joe Bergeron added an eight-yard touchdown run for Texas in the quarter.

West Virginia did not go scoreless in the third, and Sims' third touchdown run in the game, this one from one-yard out, kept the Mountaineers within striking distance heading into the fourth.

The Mountaineers outscored the Longhorns in the fourth, but a 40-37 advantage with 2:35 remaining would not hold up.

Trailing 30-26, West Virginia retook the lead with 14:01 left, when Dreamius Smith powered in from eight-yards out. The Longhorns countered with a 10-yard scoring pass from McCoy to Jaxson Shipley at the 8:57 mark to take a 37-33 lead.

On its next possession, WVU turned in its second-longest scoring play of the season, when Paul Millard hit Mario Alford for a 72-yard touchdown and a 40-37 lead with 7:39 remaining.

The Mountaineer defense held the Longhorns on the next possession, but WVU, after gaining one first down, could not convert a second-and-one and a third-and-one on back-to-back plays, giving the ball back to Texas with 2:35 left. That was enough time for McCoy, who converted a key fourth down and led the Longhorns 57 yards to set up Fera's 24-yard game-tying field goal and force overtime.

In overtime, McCoy connected with Alex De La Torre for a two-yard scoring toss. WVU got a 20-yard run from Alford on its first play in OT, but could not score from the five-yard line on the next four plays to end the game.

Millard, filling in for the injured Clint Trickett who left the game late in the first quarter, finished with 259 yards passing. Alford contributed 205 all-purpose yards, while Sims added 135 all-purpose yards. Linebacker Jared Barber was outstanding with 14 tackles to lead the defense.

McCoy finished with 283 yards passing, with 82 yards going to Shipley and 91 to Davis. Brown led the Texas ground game with 89 yards, while Steve Edmond paced the defense with 12 stops.

Final numbers showed West Virginia with 109 yards rushing and 290 passing for 399 total yards. Texas came in at 152 on the ground and 283 through the air for 435 yards of total offense.

The Texas victory evens the Big 12 conference series between the two schools at 1-1, with the Mountaineers holding a 2-1 overall series lead.

KANSAS	31
WEST VIRGINIA	19

Kansas rushed for an impressive 315 yards and surprised West Virginia with a 31-19 victory at Memorial Stadium.

The main man for the Jayhawks was running back James Sims, who rushed for 211 yards on 22 carries. Sims had rushes of 68 and 62 yards and finished with three touchdowns and a 9.8 yards per carry average

The game got started on a high note for West Virginia, as the Mountaineers scored on their opening possession with relative ease. Filling in for the injured Clint Trickett, quarterback Paul Millard drove the offense 75 yards on just six plays to light up the scoreboard first.

A 27-yard rush from WVU's Charles Sims and a 30-yard pass completion to Mario Alford were key plays in the opening drive that ended when Millard hit Sims for a 12-yard touchdown pass.

Trailing 7-0, Kansas would go on to score the next 31 straight points. On its opening drive, Kansas drove 63 yards on 13 plays and came away with a 25-yard Ron Doherty field goal.

The Jayhawks took the lead with 6:12 remaining in the first half on a three-yard run from Sims that ended an 89-yard drive. Along with the touchdown, Sims had the big play in the drive with a 62-yard rush.

Sims broke loose again with only 39 seconds left in the first half, as his 68-yard touchdown run stunned the Mountaineer defense and gave the Jayhawks a 17-7 lead at the intermission.

A key turning point came early in the third quarter with West Virginia driving to the Kansas 30-yard line. Instead of coming away with points, Kansas linebacker Ben Goodman intercepted Millard and came away with a 54-yard interception return to set up the game's next score.

Five plays later, Sims' second touchdown gave the Jayhawks a 24-7 lead with 10:03 left in the third.

Both teams were unable to put points on the board until the 6:24 mark of the fourth quarter, when Kansas' Brandon Bourbon dove in from one-yard out to give the Jayhawks a commanding 31-7 lead.

The touchdown was set up when Millard threw his second interception, and Kansas linebacker Ben Heeney returned the pick 28 yards to the WVU one-yard line. Both West Virginia interceptions on the day resulted in Jayhawk touchdowns.

The Mountaineers did add two more scores in the final five minutes of the game. Millard connected with receiver Kevin White for a three-yard toss with 4:54 left. A 25-yard Sims run was the big play in the drive for WVU. It was Sims again that found the end zone for West Virginia with just 28 seconds left, when he scampered in from six-yards out.

Millard finished with 242 yards passing, and Sims rushed for 99 yards on 16 carries. Alford's 70 yards receiving toped WVU's receiving corps, while Will Clarke led the defense with 10 tackles, and two TFL.

Sims' 211 rushing yards was pretty much the entire Kansas offense. Quarterback Montell Cozart did pass for 61 yards and rush for another 60 to go along with 48 yards on the ground from Bourbon. The Jayhawk defense was led by Cassius Sendish with 11 tackles.

Team totals showed West Virginia with 144 yards rushing and 242 passing for 386 yards of offense. Kansas rushed for an impressive 315 yards, while passing for 61 to total 376 yards of offense. Between the two teams, a running back named Sims accounted for five of the seven touchdowns scored in the game.

The win broke a 27-game Big 12 losing streak for the Jayhawks and ended West Virginia's streak of consecutive bowl games at 11, which was tied for the eighth longest in the country.

IOWA STATE	52

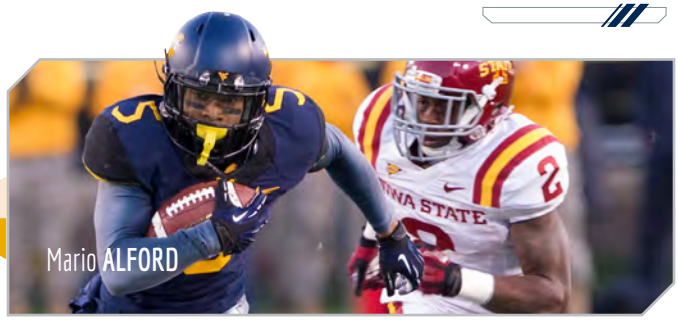
3 OVERTIMES



The Iowa State Cyclones stormed back from a 17-point fourth quarter deficit to stun West Virginia, 52-44, in triple overtime to close out the 2013 season.

Trailing by as much as 31-7 in the second quarter, Iowa State took advantage of three critical Mountaineer turnovers in the second half to play its way back into the game.

The loss negated the fine play from senior running back Charles Sims, who finished with 149 yards rushing and two touchdowns. Sims became the first Mountaineer running back to reach the 1,000-yard rushing plateau since 2009.

Junior receiver Mario Alford also turned in a big game with eight catches for 215 yards, including a 76-yard touchdown reception in the fourth quarter.

Sims and Alford's play sparked the Mountaineers, who started fast and seemed to be in total control for three-and-a-half quarters, before the Iowa State comeback left a stunned fanbase at Milan Puskar Stadium.

The Mountaineers claimed a 3-0 lead at the 11:36 mark of the first quarter on a 49-yard field goal by Josh Lambert.

An interception by linebacker Nick Kwiatkoski set up Sims' seven-yard touchdown run for a 10-0 WVU lead. An Iowa State fumble on its next possession was picked up by Karl Joseph and returned 38-yards for a score and a 17-0 Mountaineer lead.

Cyclone quarterback Grant Rohach put the visitors on the scoreboard before the end of the first quarter with a 54-yard run, bringing an end to first quarter scoring.

A 91-yard drive, which ended with a 17-yard touchdown reception by Kevin White, and Sims' 76-yard run highlighted West Virginia's scoring in the second quarter. Trailing 31-7, Iowa State added a 10-yard scoring toss to Quenton Bundrage to go into the locker room down, 31-14, at the half.

Neither team scored in the third as Iowa State escaped a WVU touchdown, when Wendell Smallwood fumbled on the goal line. Iowa State then drove 99 yards and scored on Shontrelle Johnson's three-yard rush that pulled the Cyclones to within 10 with 14:00 left.

However, all seemed well from the WVU side, when the Mountaineers answered with a 76-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Clint Trickett to Alford, giving WVU a 38-21 lead.

The Cyclones answered Alford's score with a 62-yard touchdown pass of their own to get back to within 10 at 38-28. Then, the turnover bug hit the Mountaineers again, and Iowa State made them pay.

Cole Netten's 31-yard field goal made it 38-31 and was set up by a Mountaineer fumble. Then with 2:46 left, a WVU interception set up a 19-yard touchdown pass from Rohach to Justin Coleman to knot the score at 38-38 and force overtime.

Both teams traded field goals in the first two overtimes, before Iowa State broke through with a 25-yard touchdown pass in the third overtime, along with a successful two-point conversion.

West Virginia used a 22-yard run by Sims in its third overtime segment to get down to the three, but the Cyclones held from there and completed the comeback.

Along with Sims and Alford's efforts, Trickett had his best day as a Mountaineer with 356 yards passing, while Kwiatkoski once again paced the defense with 14 tackles.

Iowa State received 331 yards passing and four touchdowns from Rohach, 72 yards rushing from Johnson and 184 yards combined receiving from Bundrage and Coleman. Jacques Washington and Jevohn Miller combined for 16 tackles on defense.

WVU had 212 yards rushing and 356 passing for 568 total yards. ISU totaled 244 rushing and 331 passing for 575 total yards. The loss ended West Virginia's season at 4-8 overall and 2-6 in the Big 12.

E.GORDON GEE
PRESIDENT

Dr. E. Gordon Gee is one of America's most prominent higher education leaders, having helmed universities for more than three decades. In 2009, Time magazine named him one of the top 10 university presidents in the United States.

In 2014, Gee returned to West Virginia University, where his career as a university president began. His leadership goals include putting students first, advancing the university's research agenda, partnering with West Virginia communities and making sure that 1.8 million West Virginians know in their hearts and minds that West Virginia University is their university.

President E. Gordon Gee with his family -- son-in-law, David Patrón, daughter, Dr. Rebekah Gee, and twins Eva, on Gee's lap, and Elizabeth

Born in Vernal, Utah, Gee graduated from the University of Utah with an honors degree in history and earned his J.D. and Ed.D degrees from Columbia University. He clerked under Chief Justice David T. Lewis of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals before being named a judicial fellow and staff assistant to the U.S. Supreme Court. In this role, he worked for Chief Justice Warren Burger on administrative and legal problems of the Court and federal judiciary. Gee returned to Utah as an associate professor and associate dean in the J. Reuben Clark Law School at Brigham Young University, and was granted full professorship in 1978.

One year later, he became dean of the West Virginia University College of Law, and, in 1981, was named West Virginia University president. He served in that role until 1985.
He went on to lead the University of Colorado (1985-1990), Brown University (1998-2000), and Vanderbilt University (2001-2007). He served as president of The Ohio State University from 1990 to 1997 and again from 2007 to 2013.

Gee has been a member of several education-governance organizations and committees, including the Big Ten Conference Council of Presidents, the Inter-University Council of Ohio, the Business-Higher Education Forum, and the American Association of Universities. He was chair of the American Council on Education's Commission on Higher Education Attainment and served as co-chair of the Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities' Energy Advisory Committee. In 2009, Gee was invited to join the International Advisory Board of King Abdulaziz University in Saudi Arabia.

Active in a number of national professional and service organizations during his tenures, he has served on the boards for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum, Inc., Limited Brands and the National 4-H Council. In 2011, Gee was appointed to serve as secretary on the Board of Directors of Ohio's economic development program, JobsOhio. In 2011-2012, he was asked by Governor John Kasich to chair the Ohio Higher Education Capital Funding Collaborative and the Ohio Higher Education Funding Commission.

Gee has received a number of honorary degrees, awards, fellowships and recognitions. He is a fellow of the prestigious American Association for the Advancement of Science, the world's largest science organization. In 1994, Gee received the Distinguished Alumnus Award from the University of Utah, as well as from Teachers College of Columbia University. In 2013, he received the ACE Council of Fellows/ Fidelity Investments Mentor Award and received the Outstanding Academic Leader of the Year Award on behalf of Historically Black Colleges and Universities. He is the co-author of 11 books, including Law, Policy and Higher Education, published in 2012. He has also authored many papers and articles on law and education.

Gee's daughter, Rebekah, is the Medicaid Medical Director for the State of Louisiana, and an assistant professor of Public Health and Medicine at Louisiana State University. She is also a Norman F. Gant/ American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology/IOM Anniversary Fellow.

OLIVER LUCK
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

As Director of Athletics at West Virginia University, Oliver Luck has worked endlessly and traveled the world to enhance the Mountaineers' role as a major player in collegiate athletics.

In four years on the job, Luck's accomplishments have been nothing short of spectacular. In the past year alone, he successfully guided the start of construction on a new $21 million baseball park, which will open in 2015 and provide the Mountaineers with one of the best facilities in the Big 12.

Add in his tireless efforts to secure a $75 million bond, start a $25 million fundraising effort and proceed with a $6 million new football team room and Luck's efforts will show $106 million in facility improvements in the coming years to bring WVU's aging facilities into the modern times.

His work on the national level is equally impressive and equally valuable to West Virginia University. He was named in 2013 to a three-year term on the inaugural College Football Playoff committee, which will change the face of the college football national championship. He serves on the NFL Player Safety Advisory Committee, chairs the Big 12 Budget and Finance Committee, serves on the board of American Campus Community, Inc., and in May, 2014, was one of the featured speakers at the White House at the Healthy Kids and Safe Sports Concussion Summit through his work with the organization Practice Like Pros.

Among athletic directors, Luck is also one of the most popular speakers on the national circuit. Countless seminars and conventions feature him on panels and discussion groups to tap into his knowledge of the corporate and collegiate world.

Before 2014, his previous three years at WVU were equally impressive and busy. He has hired new coaches to bolster WVU's level of success. He guided the completion of major capital projects such as the $25 million WVU basketball practice facility for men's and women's basketball and the women's soccer training complex.
He led WVU into the Big 12 Conference, presided over the best fundraising year in school history (2012), implemented several safety and crowd enhancements at Mountaineer sporting events, increased overall department revenue, continued a master plan for facility upgrades and watched his football program gain its third BCS bowl victory.

In 2013, Luck oversaw the reseating of the WVU Coliseum to further increase WVU's fundraising efforts. He added an 18th varsity sport - men's golf, which will tee it up in 2015 for the first time since 1982. He outsourced WVU's media rights to secure a 12-year guaranteed annual revenue source of at least $6 million per year from IMG. However, through all his accomplishments in four years in Morgantown, it all has occurred while he has fostered an atmosphere for achievement and triumph in the classroom and on the field.

Luck, was appointed the University's 11th Director of Athletics on June 9, 2010 and he was no stranger to success. In fact, Luck's athletic and professional career has been the epitome of success, first as a record-setting quarterback for the Mountaineers from 1978-81, then as a professional quarterback for the National Football League's Houston Oilers, and later as a professional sports executive.

After retiring from football, Luck became vice president of business development for the NFL and later was appointed general manager of the Frankfurt Galaxy of the newly created World League of American Football. He spent the '95 season as general manager of the Rhein Fire before being named President and CEO of NFL Europe in 1996. Luck totaled more than 10 years with the NFL, before becoming chief executive officer of the Harris County-Houston Sports Authority in 2001. In that role, Luck oversaw the development and management of a $1 billion professional sports and entertainment complex for the city of Houston that included Minute Maid Park, home of the Houston Astros, Reliant Stadium, home of the Houston Texans, the Toyota Center, home of the Houston Rockets.

In 2005, Luck was appointed as the first president of Major League Soccer's Houston Dynamos, helping that organization to a pair of MLS Cup titles in his first two years at the helm. Luck secured the funding for an $80 million soccer complex to house the Dynamos when the call came to return to his alma mater. BBVA Compass Stadium was built and opened in 2012 adding to Luck's legacy with the professional soccer team, and the overall Houston sports facility complexes. He returned to Houston in May, 2012 for the opening ceremony of the soccer stadium that he fought so hard for.

Prior to his current position at WVU, Luck was appointed to a four-year term on the West Virginia University Board of Governors, a spot he relinquished to become director of athletics.

The Rhodes Scholar finalist graduated Phi Beta Kappa from WVU in 1982. He also earned a law degree from Texas, graduating cum laude in 1987. In 1997, Luck was inducted into the West Virginia University Sports Hall of Fame, and in 2000, he was inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

He is married to the former Kathy Wilson. They have two sons and two daughters: Andrew, a former All-American quarterback and two-time Heisman Trophy finalist at Stanford and No. 1 overall pick of the 2012 NFL draft by the Indianapolis Colts; Mary Ellen, a standout volleyball player and graduate of Stanford; Emily, a current student at Stanford and Addison, who attends Morgantown High.

MEDIA INFORMATION

FOLLOWING ARE SOME GUIDELINES FOR COVERING THE 2014 MOUNTAINEERS.

Credentials: All requests for working press, photo and broadcast credentials to cover West Virginia's 2014 home football games must be emailed to director of football communications Mike Montoro (mike.montoro@mail.wvu.edu) on company letterhead at least two weeks prior to the game. Requests the week of the game only will be honored if space permits.

Due to the demand for working credentials, media regularly assigned to cover WVU and the visiting school will receive priority.
All photographers must work outside the 30-yard lines as prescribed by the NCAA; they are not permitted in the bench area extended. Photographers must sign in for field access in the press box prior to each game.

No children (age 16 and under) are allowed on the sidelines for any reason; any children on the sidelines will be removed, along with their guardians.

Any abuse of a working credential to West Virginia football games can result in the media agency losing credential privileges for the remainder of 2014 and possibly the entire 2015 home season.

After The Game: Coach Dana Holgorsen will conduct a postgame news conference in the Milan Puskar Center Team Room. Holgorsen's news conference also can be heard over the press box PA. Requested WVU players also will be available in the team room. No media will be granted access to the West Virginia locker room.

During The Week: Coach Dana Holgorsen will meet with the media each Tuesday afternoon at 1 p.m., in the Team Room at the Puskar Center. He will be available on the Big 12 weekly conference call each Monday at 11:40 a.m. ET Mountaineer players will be available for interviews each Tuesday during the dinner hour; Tuesday during dinner is also the best time for players to return calls to out-of-town media. They will also be available to return phone calls on Tuesday and Wednesday as class and practice schedules permit. Any special arrangements for player interviews should be made through director of football communications Mike Montoro at least a day in advance. Players will not be asked to miss class or study hall for interviews and at no time will a player's phone number be given to the media.

No player interviews will be conducted during practice sessions. The practice and interview schedule for preseason camp and game weeks will be announced in August.
